Pharmacovigilance Congress

Partners in Pharmacovigilance

The Alliance for Patient Safety

By Abderrahim Derraji, Pharmacist

The curtain has just fallen on the Pharmacovigilance (PV) Congress that took place from October 12th to 14th, 2023, at the Poison Control and Pharmacovigilance Center in Rabat.

This event, organized by the Moroccan Society of Pharmacovigilance and Patient Safety, attracted healthcare professionals, experts in the field of medicine, as well as educators and students. Over the course of three days, participants engaged with topics related to pharmacovigilance and patient safety.

The various conferences and roundtable discussions were led by speakers from Morocco, Europe, and other African and Arab countries.

The first day was primarily dedicated to technical aspects of PV, such as Risk Management Plans, MedDRA coding, ATC DDD coding, and more.

As for the remaining days, they provided an overview of pharmacovigilance within different sectors and allowed for the formulation of recommendations to ensure the continued development of this discipline, which ensures the safety of healthcare product users.

In addition to the plenary sessions, the organizing committee planned more than twenty highly interesting roundtable discussions.

The congress concluded with a closing ceremony, during which trophies were awarded to the winners of the Taïeb Bencheikh Prize. An especially moving tribute was paid to P^r Rachida Soulaymani for her tireless work and dedication in advancing pharmacovigilance in Morocco. A great number of national and international experts took turns praising the qualities, commitment, and devotion of this woman who has contributed significantly to Moroccan pharmacovigilance.
